Here for you...

Getting help to recover from abuse is possible at any stage of life

Sometimes it can take us a while to understand that we have been abused. Sometimes we're just not ready to talk about it. It can be hard to know where to go for help.

It's normal to be worried about who to talk to and what will happen. But you're not alone. There is support out there to help you.

Reach out when you're ready - it's never too late. There are services for adults as well as young people and children, and they will help you no matter when the abuse happened.
